VI-READING COMPREHENSION (12Marks)

Read the following passage, then answer the questions below:

Tigers are found in many countries of Asia, such as India and China. They are the largest of all the big cats. A grown tiger is about 3 meters long. Its beautiful colouring makes it one of the most magnificent animals.

Unlike most cats, tigers are not afraid of water. They are often seen cooling themselves in shallow water on hot days. During the rainy season when the rivers are flooded, tigers have been seen to spend their time in rivers catching fish and turtles for food. They also go to water to look for weak animals. Tigers can cross a river easily because they are strong animals.

Tigers hunt in the forest. Their power enables them to feed on any animal they choose. Young elephants make up a large part of their diet. They also eat small animals such as rabbits and monkeys. Even crabs and insects like the locusts are eatable to tigers. Sometimes, some tigers may kill farm animals or man when they are wounded or too old to hunt.
